Would you like to be a Crossflatts Reading Angel?

We are looking for volunteers to help improve the reading skills of our children.

Starting in the summer term, we will be creating a team of Reading Angels to listen to children read, as well as working on their comprehension skills.

- You will be fully trained in how to deliver one-to-one reading sessions.
- You will work within school.
- You will work with specific children on a regular basis.

If you are looking to gain experience in school, ease yourself back into the world of work, or if you just want to help children and support your local primary school, then this is the opportunity for you.

Whether you can offer us one hour a week, one day a week or even more, we would like to hear from you.

If you are interested, or if you know somebody else who might be, please contact me at school.

I look forward to hearing from you.
