

I just wanted to let you know that Joe's suddenly got much more confident with his writing and is wanting to practice all the time 😊. He found some post it notes yesterday so wrote his name and drew a picture on each one and stuck them all over the house 😄. Thanks for all your work to help him get to this point.xX

You'll be pleased to know that she's teaching me her daily phonics and using "my turn, your turn" to make sure I'm doing it correctly!

Thanks,

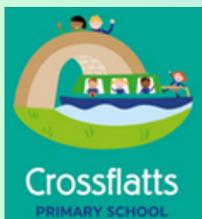

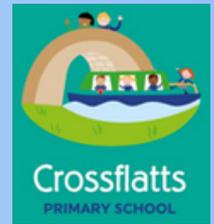

Friday - I want to personally praise April. I can't tell you how much Hayden has learned with her and what a change since he started school. She's doing an amazing job and I couldn't be any happier she's Hayden's 1:1 x

We just wanted to say thank you for all your hard work with joe and the rest of the Ladybirds this year 😊, it is much appreciated. We hope you have a lovely Christmas and can get a bit of a break! We

She's very proud of her certificate. Thanks for your support this week
