

Character & Culture

Mrs Reynolds - Assistant Head, Year 2&3 Lead

This is my sixteenth academic year as part of the Crossflatts Family. During my time in teaching, I have seen the immeasurable value and impact of supporting the development of the whole child, as well as their academic progress.

I am passionate about our Character and Culture Curriculum, which we developed post-Covid, to encompass the eight key areas of our children's personal development.

I am proud that we equip our children as to-be proactive, socially and emotionally healthy members of their community. It is a genuine pleasure to watch them thrive on their journey through Crossflatts and become the well-rounded young people they are when they leave us for the next chapter of their story.

Our Vision

Our vision for our children is that they will spend their time with us developing the key skills they need for the world beyond the classroom. Crossflatts believes that all children should be equipped with the right tools to become the very best they can be. In terms of our Character & Culture Curriculum, this means that we ensure that they thrive within each direction of our Character and Culture Compass. These are; Core Values, PSHE, RSE, British Values, Oracy, RE, Social and Emotional Learning and Above and Beyond. This curriculum is carefully designed to cultivate every child's sense of self, their value and their contribution to their school, local and global community, equipping them with the tools they need to flourish and fly.
